

3. Problem Statement

Based on the information shared by participating operator and vendor organizations, the level of sophistication about intelligent networks is still relatively low, with little cross-departmental and s then leads to further silos, fragmentation of testing activities and less efficiency across the industry.

3.1 Definitions – What are AI/ML and AI Ops?

3.2 Assumptions

The Open Source communities and standards bodies are in the best position within the